

Has Your Story Been Told?

KATHARINE BALLARD ANDERSON

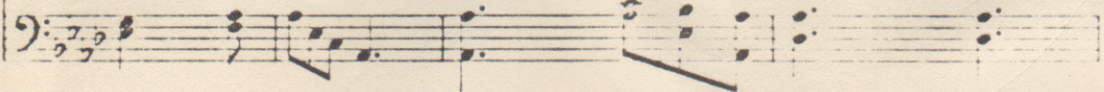

LAWRENCE W. LELAND

1. The world could not hold all the books that re-veal How Je - sus made
2. Most love, do you ask, did God show in His Son? He died on the
3. The ran-somed will hark and the an-gels will bend. All cov-er his
4. If sung or if told, it will wear like fine gold, And none in the peo - ple all new: By man - i - fold means our dear Lord would un-fold A cross, and for you! Wit' all lov-ing grace there He took our own place, This mo - ment you've found; Some sin-ner a-larmed, by your sto - ry so charmed, Will world can there be So hap - py with-in, and so saved from his sin, As

CHORUS

love that would draw e - ven you! — sto - ry of sto - ries is true! — Has your own true sto - ry been heed at the note that you sound. CODA Tho' count-less the peo - ple who one whose tied tongue is cut free. — told, — How God by His grace has won you? — When you've tak - en it hear, — Or emp - ty the room where I sing, — I'm con - strained in my in, it is time to be - gin Who - ev - er could tell it but you? — heart, gos - pel truth to im - part Sal - va - tion to you it may bring! —

